

Legapass raises €1M to secure the legacy of your passwords and cryptocurrencies!

Legapass, a french start-up from Nice who developed a highly secured process for storage and transmission of digital heritage and credentials, has just raised €1 million in pre-seed. In our digitalised era, Legapass aims to democratise 2.0 legacy for individuals and professionals.

Our accounts on social networks, mailboxes, photos, cryptocurrencies, the contents of our smartphone... What happens to those data when we disappear? It continues to exist with Legapass. after us!

To protect your credentials from hackers and not leave them abandoned to wrong persons, it's essential to anticipate while you are alive by securing them , otherwise it will be an ostacle race for your relatives.

Accompanied by renowned investors such as Christophe Courtin, Laurent Caredda, Romain Vidal, Vincent Daffourd or Etienne Leroy, and supported by the BPI French Tech Seed fund, Legapass intends to impose its "100% Made in France" innovation on the French market, and then more widely in Europe in the upcoming years.

While the startup has already gained the trust of its first individual and professional customers, this fundraising will enable its growth. In the upcoming months, the company already plans to recruit a dozen sales profiles and invest exponentially in Research & Development to perfect its technology and develop new services.

Founded in Nice in the south of France at the end of 2021 by Jean-Charles Chemin, Adelina Prokhorova and Eric Maïda, Legapass has been marketing its services online since April 2022. Awarded by the French tech and labeled DeepTech via the Paca-Est incubator, Legapass is also a member of the "Fédération Nationale des Tiers de Confiance Numérique". The startup already employs 15 people and has just joined the accelerator Allianz.
